Use of cookies

Mid-Cornwall Dog Training Club websites may seek to set and access small text files known as 'cookies' on your computer. For detailed information about our use of cookies, and ways in which you may choose to opt out of accepting them, please visit our Use of 'Cookies' page.

Cooky Policy

"Cookies" are small files left behind on your computer when you visit a website. When you return to a website, the browser sends this file to the website's server. This allows the site to recognise who you are and perform certain tasks like: keeping you logged-in to a secure area of the site or personalising webpages to you. They also allow websites to more accurately track your browsing behaviour for statistical analysis.

Because of the privacy concerns that cookies may raise, many users choose to limit how they are stored on their machine. Below is an explanation of how Mid-Cornwall Dog Training Club use cookies and advice for taking control of how they are stored on your machine.

Controlling how cookies are stored on your computer

To find out more about cookies, including how to control and delete them, please visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

Due to their core role of enhancing/enabling usability or site processes, disabling cookies may prevent users from using certain websites. Should you wish to disable cookies, however, you can find out how at: www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies.

How do Mid-Cornwall DTC websites use cookies?

Collecting statistical information about visitor behaviour patterns

Whenever anyone visits our website we collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out the number of visitors to the various parts of our websites. We collect this information in a way that does not identify anyone. We make no attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

We use our web hosting statistical analytical tool provided by Awstats to help analyse use of our website. This analytical tool uses cookies to collect standard web log information and visitor behaviour information in an anonymous form. The information generated by the cookie about your use of the website (including your IP address) is transmitted to Awstats. This information is then used to evaluate visitors' use of the website and to compile statistical reports on website activity for Mid-Cornwall Dog Training Club .

Mid-Cornwall Dog Training Club will not (and will not allow any third party to) use the statistical analytics tool to track or to collect any information that personally identifies visitors to our site. We will not associate any data gathered from this site with any personally identifying information from any source as part of our use of the awstats statistical analytics tool. Awstats will not associate your IP address with any other data held by awstats. Neither Mid-Cornwall Dog Training Club nor Awstats will link, or seek to link, an IP address with the identity of a computer user.

To find out more about Awstats Analytics, visit: <http://awstats.sourceforge.net/>
